

Minutes of the Cowan Commercial Club

The Cowan Commercial Club Board of Directors met on Monday, February 4, 2013 at Miss Gracie's restaurant with the following members in attendance: Mary Bledsoe, Cheryl Boswell, Jarod Pearson, and Judy Wiltze.

Judy called the meeting to order at 4:40 p.m.

Jarod provided an overview of the Treasury. Our most recent transaction was a $112 from the parade concessions stand. Judy asked that the group put together an invoice and membership recruiting plan so that we can collect dues give our treasury a boost for this year's activities. Jarod agreed to revise and update last year's package and have them ready for the next program meeting.

The main item of discussion for this meeting was to make plans for the next program meeting, which will take place on February 11th at Miss Gracie's. The Dutch Maid Bakery will provide our program and refreshments. This is an excellent opportunity to welcome new and prospective members. At this meeting Jarod will present Judy with the gavel and welcome her officially into the president's position.

Judy gave an overview of the recently produced brochures promoting Cowan businesses. These are getting very good reviews. The conversation turned to our need to revisit the information kiosks that Commercial Club has been discussing for a few years now.

Jarod noted that Tracey Mitchell is no longer with WZYX Radio and has moved out of the area. We will need to contact WZYX to see if someone else on the staff would like to fill the position.

With no further discussion, the meeting was adjourned.

Jarod Pearson, Secretary
